There is a tremendous interest and energy in the green movement in America and throughout the world. There is something big and wonderful going on and it's time for your team to be part of it. Unleash the vital passion and caring your team has with the Green Team Quest. Make a difference in your work community and help the world you live in be a better place for us all.

We're more and more aware that environmental responsibility equals fiscal responsibility. The business case and environmental case for going green is clear. Give your team and company the 'integrity edge' by learning environmental best practices and making positive changes in your workplace.

Green Team Quest is a fast-paced, lively and information-packed program presented with a sense of humor and fun. Together we'll examine the most effective ways for your team to heighten your environmental effectiveness, put greater environmental integrity in your work-place, and "make more green" by decreasing energy costs, increasing team-member productivity and increasing market share.

We all want to make a difference in this world. Here's a rare opportunity to actually do so, with immediate, tangible results built into the process. This is an extraordinary way to infuse your team with energy, create a feeling of immense good will and a sense of meaning larger than day-to-day work challenges.

From the energizing fun of Meet the Greens, to the eye-opening Learn Green, to the invigorating Greenstorming, to the manic fun of Ultimate Green Game, your group will learn a lot, laugh a lot and be energized to head back to the work-place to make changes that will benefit everyone today, tomorrow and beyond.

Meet the Greens

Start off with our Meet the Greens icebreaker that has your group up and energized learning interesting and surprising fun-facts about other members of their team.

Learn Green

We've distilled the extensive research on how successful companies and people can contribute in a lively, funny and interactive presentation. Together, we pin-point target topics for your team to focus on for maximum effectiveness and interest.

Greenstorming

Get ready to be amazed at what your group can create during Greenstorming! This fast-paced and fun brainstorming session ignites innovation and focuses on three key areas:

1. Green Today – simple steps, small changes you can make...today!
2. Green Target – create an ongoing team goal that targets systematic change.
3. Green Quest – a grand goal to inspire you to reach further and make more of a difference than you may have thought possible.

Your team then chooses their favorites from the brainstormed ideas in each topic area, creates an action plan, determines a method for tracking statistical results of your efforts and together commits to specific actions.

After Greenstorming, your team will either take part in Making Green or play The Ultimate Green Game depending on your available time and location.

Making Green

This service project focuses on your team, your company building and your community. You'll be challenged as a team to undertake a hands-on project that will allow you to see the positive difference you can make. Making Green projects are tailored to your unique situation.

Increase market share

“People who practice Lifestyles of Health and Sustainability (LOHAS) represent an $81 billion market and they want to patronize green businesses. The sooner you go green, the more likely you'll capture market share.”
- MorrisonMcNabb

The Ultimate Green Game

The Ultimate Green Game is pure fun and an incredibly energizing event. Imagine a giant, colorful game board, large enough to accommodate your entire group. The music starts, the extra-large dice are rolled, and the game begins! Teams work their way around the game board, furiously trying to answer green trivia questions and complete wild and wacky “green team challenges”. Teams earn points for team spirit, creativity, and enthusiasm!

The Next Step

We follow up with you to help you evaluate your progress and give you suggestions for maximum effectiveness. If you care about the environment and the people the environment supports (that’s all of us), if you like the idea of energy independence, join the Green Team Quest. By giving to the earth, you’re giving to the future, to your grandchildren and great-grandchildren. Harness the incredible power of caring that you and your team have.

Giving Back

For every team that graduates our Green Team Quest program, we will either:

1. Give each participant a copy of Wake Up and Smell the Planet: The Non-Pompous, Non-Preachy Grist Guide to Greening Your Day or
2. Make a donation to a specific environmental cause in your team’s name and let you know exactly what positive effect this donation had.
